Australian Marina of the Year 2013-2014

Soldiers Point Marina continues to set the standard...

Soldiers Point Marina is again celebrating after gaining the coveted Australian Marina of the Year Award, for the second consecutive time. This prestigious award sponsored by Marina Industries Association and Club Marine was held as part of the Sydney Marine13 Conference in April.

The Marina also collected awards in two new categories; Best Community Engagement Initiative which recognises Soldiers Point Marina's substantial financial contribution and on-going support for the young people on the Tomaree Peninsula, and Most Innovative Marketing by a Marina for our excellent 5 Gold Anchor customer service program.

STEVEN DEWS

"Britain's Top Living Marine Artist"

Steven Dewes a former guest of Soldiers Point Marina and now a temporary resident in France while his new boat is being built, is described by Sotheby's of London as "the best, there's nobody else to touch him" and by The Mail on Sunday as "Britain's top living marine artist".

Born in Yorkshire in 1949, Steven's love affair with art and the sea began at the age of 5, when he had a picture of a ship displayed on the wall of his infant's school. His grandfather, an Assistant Harbour Master, was also a great influence in young Steven's life.

Fast forward a few years and Steven mounted his first exhibition aged 27 with nearly his whole body of work sold and orders for 17 commissions taken. A sold out exhibition in San Francisco the following year signaled his future as a leading marine artist, and the rest is history.

After a move to Australia, Steven and his family purchased and created a home and farm from a bare piece of land in Congewai, an incredibly beautiful part of the Hunter Valley. After many years hard work and an established property, Steven and wife Louise needed another challenge and started exploring Australia, eventually decided to learn to fly with the idea of flying around the country rather than exploring it by road.

Having spent an enormous amount of time on the water both Steven and Louise missed the sea and found themselves with a rekindled passion for sailing... taking them where they are today.

We were privileged to have Steven spend many years at the marina, when he established a studio on the upper level of the marina, now the guest lounge. Steven is remembered fondly by staff and fellow guests, and the feeling is mutual. "Regarding my time at the marina, I can, without doubt, say that having a boat there was one of the most wonderful experiences of my life", says Steven.

We wish Steven and his family a safe voyage home on their new boat via the Atlantic and Pacific Islands, and look forward to welcoming them back to Soldiers Point Marina and hearing of all their adventures.

Steven's paintings can be acquired through his main representative in the UK: Tryon Gallery in London.

Marina Holds Cocktail Party for Our Favourite Youth Organisation

As the major sponsor of the Real Futures Foundation, Soldiers Point Marina hosted a Cocktail party at The Point Restaurant recently to thank current sponsors and introduce new sponsors to the Foundation that provides many innovative programs to students from Tomaree High and St Philips Christian College. The programs help Year 10 students pursue a productive pathway and set realistic goals to further their education, take advantage of training opportunities and undertake work experience or work placement.

Guest speaker well known Newcastle sailing identity and catastrophe survivor Tony Purkiss, kept the crowd spellbound by accounts of his near death experiences including the 1998 Sydney to Hobart Yacht race and the 2005 Bali suicide bombing that has cost him his sight.

Following an impressive two week Work Experience placement with Anthony Lloyd Smash Repairs, Damien Crew is now part of their team and nearing the end of his first year apprenticeship in Automotive Vehicle Body Repairs. Damian completed Year 10 last year at Tomaree High and started work straight away. He was awarded the Soldiers Point Marina Vocational Award for 2012 following his enthusiasm and participation in many of the Real Futures Programs including Polish, Careers Quest and Impressions 10 whilst also attending the Try-a-trade and Careers Expo excursions. SAIL PORT STEPHENS

11th – 16th April 2014

Traditionally held in the first week of the NSW April School Holidays, the Sail Port Stephens Regatta held in the waters of the Port Stephens Marine Park is now firmly established as an annual event on the Australian yachting regatta calendar.

The family friendly race week is organised by the Corlette Point Sailing Club and attracts some of Australia's leading yachts from the cruiser racer to the IRC competitor for some serious sailing – and partying afterwards.

Sail Port Stephens Week provides a great entertainment and social program for the whole family and the children are well catered for with activities on and off the water.

Photos taken by Saltwater Images

Last year a Junior Sailing Regatta was held over two days as part of the week with great success, attracting a field of 20 competitors. The event has grown from a field of 25 entries in 2008 to 160 in 2013, with the regatta expected to be even larger in 2014.

SOLDIERS POINT SAILING SCHOOL FUN FOR THE WHOLE FAMILY

Adults as well as our youngsters are now discovering the thrill of sailing small boats with the qualified instructors at Soldiers Point Sailing School. The most common comment from adults is "I've always wanted to do this but never had the opportunity".

That opportunity has now arrived in the form of an Etchells gifted to Soldiers Point Sailing School by the family of the late Peter Downs a well-known and respected yachting who was Commodore of the Greenwich Flying Squadron in Sydney during the period 1999-2000.

Chief Sailing School Instructor Graham Oborn organised the delivery of the yacht named "Pacific Edge" from Sydney to Port Stephens and supervised a complete refurbishment.

The Etchells joins the 8 Optimists and 2 Lasers in the expanding fleet from which lessons are offered every Friday and Saturday and every school holidays. The School was recently recertified as a Sailing Centre by Yachting NSW, and can now provide instruction for all categories in Yachting Australia's Learn to Sail programs, Basic Skills 1 and 2; Better Sailing; Racing Skills 1 and 2.
